PROPOSED PROJECT:

An update to the City of Los Angeles General Plan consisting of the 2021-2029 Housing Element, Safety Element Update, and amendments to the Health Element (Plan for a Healthy Los Angeles).

2021-2029 Housing Element

The Housing Element is one of the eight State-mandated elements of the General Plan and identifies the City’s housing conditions and needs, establishes the goals, objectives, and policies that are the foundation of the City’s housing strategy, and provides an array of programs to increase housing production, minimize displacement, provide greater access to opportunity and assist vulnerable populations. California law requires local governments to adopt land use plans and regulatory systems that provide opportunities for, and do not unduly constrain, housing development; implement programs to maintain and monitor existing and future housing stock, and update the Housing Element every eight years. The Housing Element Update will revise existing and establish new citywide priorities, policies, goals, and programs for the City to accommodate the City’s required housing needs allocation as determined by the Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) and the Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) in the Regional Housing Needs Assessment (RHNA). A new requirement of Housing Element law also requires a fair housing analysis to address, combat, and relieve disparities resulting from past patterns of segregation to foster more inclusive communities.

The Project involves State-mandated updates to accommodate the RHNA allocation through the year 2029, as established by SCAG. Under the RHNA allocation, the City is required to provide the zoned capacity to accommodate the development of at least 456,643 residential units using various land use planning strategies to plan for all income groups. The Housing Element Update includes revisions and additions to the goals, objectives, policies and implementation programs. The Housing Element Update also includes a Rezoning Program to create needed housing capacity for any identified shortfall in order to reach the required RHNA allocation and associated buffer by October 2024, as described in Chapter 4 of the draft Housing Element. A draft of the Housing Element is available as Exhibit B of the Staff Report.

Safety Element

The Safety Element is one of the eight State-mandated elements of the General Plan and identifies the City's policy approach to preventing, responding to and recovering from disaster events. Recent State legislation that triggers the review and update of the Safety Element upon the update to the Housing Element. While the Housing Element is undergoing a comprehensive update, the update to the Safety Element is limited to targeted amendments that ensure consistency with legislative mandates. Through this update the City has integrated additional policy and program language to elevate the priorities of addressing climate change, particularly those related to wildfire and flooding, and advancing equity. Much of this language is drawn from existing City of Los Angeles plans, including the Green New Deal, Resilient Los Angeles and the 2018 Local Hazard Mitigation Plan. The background chapters of the document have been updated to reflect current disaster management practices. A draft of the Safety Element is available as Exhibit G of the Staff Report..

Health Element

The Health and Wellness Element, or Plan for a Healthy Los Angeles, is the General Plan Element that contains the majority of the City's environmental justice policies and programs, while environmental justice is also addressed in both the Housing and Safety Element updates, and other General Plan Elements. The City will make a targeted amendment to the Plan for a Healthy Los Angeles to clarify the City's compliance with a state requirement for an environmental justice element in accordance with SB 1000. A listing of amendments to the Health Element is available as Exhibit J of the Staff Report.

Telecommunication Relay Services

Telephone communication is one of the most important forms of communication in society today. Due to advancements in technology, telephone devices have evolved with new services and capabilities. Individuals who are deaf and hard of hearing, and individuals with a speech disability are following these trends and are rapidly migrating to more advanced telecommunications methods, both for peer-to-peer and third-party telecommunications relay service (TRS) communications.

Telecommunications Relay Service is a telephone service that allows persons with hearing or speech disabilities to place and receive telephone calls. TRS is available in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. territories for local and/or long distance calls. TRS providers - generally telephone companies - are compensated for the costs of providing TRS from either a state or a federal fund. There is no cost to the TRS user.

What forms of TRS are available? There are several forms of TRS, depending on the particular needs of the user and the equipment available: TRS includes: Text to Voice TIY-Based TRS; Speech-to-Speech Relay Service; Shared

Non-English Language Relay Service; Captioned Telephone Relay Service; Internet Protocol Relay Service; and Video Relay Service. Please visit this site for detail descriptions, <https://www.fcc.gov/consumers/guides/telecommunications-relay-service-trs>.

Don't hang up! Some people hang up on TRS calls because they think the CA is a telemarketer. If you hear, "Hello. This is the relay service..." when you pick up the phone, please don't hang up! You are about to talk, through a TRS provider, to a person who is deaf, hard-of-hearing, or has a speech disability.

For more information about FCC programs to promote access to telecommunications services for people with disabilities, visit the FCC's Disability Rights Office website.
